THE NEW YORK CONVENTION

Graphic Description of the Proceedings.

How and by Whom the Convention was Engineered

By overland mail we have Chicago papers to the 10th July, which furnish a full account of the New York Convention.

[Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

NEW YORK, July 9

A PARTNERSHIP AFFAIR

Revenge and the Bourbons have made their partnership, and together have triumphed. Ohio determined to seek revenge upon a secret enemy in their own camp, by helping to promote the success of the open enemy, who had already defeated them. The Bourbons, who feared the Chase movement was about to drag the party away from its old moorings, made haste to unite with them. This is the whole explanation of the sudden movement by which Horatio Seymour was sprung upon the Convention in the midst of the twenty second ballot, and nominated before the call of the States on that ballot was finished. There are plenty of assertions that Ohio has had this all cut and dried since yesterday noon, but these are incorrect. It is true that when Vallandigham yesterday received from Wash. McLean's hands the letter in which Pendleton withdrew, and wished to read it, the project which he favored was the nomination of Seymour as a great opportunity for splendid political strategy, but the delegation did not fully support him. It failed at either of its caucuses last night to agree, and they finally decided upon the movement a short time before it was made.

THE FINAL BALLOTING

The Convention began balloting at nearly 11 o'clock, in the midst of more excitement and confusion than has hitherto prevailed. Every seat was packed, the aisles full of ladies standing up, and the crowd pressing upon the telegraph offices and the tables of the press. When on this ballot Ohio cast her vote for Packer there was a profound sensation, intensified as Pennsylvania immediately asked leave to retire for consultation. The manifest expectation was that some of the smaller States would draw off from Hendricks, who was rapidly gaining on Hancock, and that thus Pennsylvania could have sufficient inducement to abandon Hancock and return to her first love. It was a double edged sword which the Outeans wielded, meant to cut Hancock and Hendricks at once. But they failed to draw off from Hendricks, and so Pennsylvania, unwilling to let him run so far ahead of Hancock, was compelled to continue her vote for her soldier candidate, in spite of the temptation which Ohio offered.

On the next ballot Hendricks was still gaining and Ohio was drifting. Her leaders had boasted that though they had lost their candidate they still controlled the convention, but it now began to appear that after having stood by while Pendleton slowly bled to death yesterday they were now about to bleed to death themselves. Their vote was cast eleven for Hancock and ten for English, and the power of the State seemed melting away. The result of the ballot was announced amid great cheering from the Hendricks men and it became apparent that Hancock had been served as had been Pendleton, and Hendricks friends now had high hopes again, and were really in some danger of success, the next ballot showing still further gains, when Ohio at last resolved to play her trump card. Massachusetts could be restrained no longer, but had already, amidst the wildest enthusiasm and the bitterest hissing cast four votes for Chase. Ohio knew that New York had that morning voted thirty eight for Chase to twenty four against him, and had then agreed to present his name and vote for him as a unit. They feared the success of this stroke, and thought it was about to fall. As they would not prefer him themselves, it remained for them to be dragged at the heels of this triumph, or to prevent it by springing their open enemy, Seymour. It was their last chance to exert marked weight upon the convention, and they used it skillfully and handsomely. On the next ballot Massachusetts asked to be passed to the end of the roll call. It was known that she was discussing the formal nomination of Chase, and casting the solid vote of the State for him. Tennessee and other States were known to be pledged to follow with their solid votes and New York was certain to go over in the next. Meanwhile Hendricks was still running up, and North Carolina had just gone for him amid wild cheering. As Ohio was called, the burly figure of McCook was seen mounting a bench for a speech. The air was alive with suspicions of some

STARTLING DEVELOPMENT

Half the Convention sprang simultaneously to their feet. For once, McCook spoke handsomely and effectually. His first sentence caught the ear of the Convention. For a moment or two the cessation of the noise approached comparative quiet. Then, as the points of the speech became apparent, the Convention and the galleries broke out in prolonged cheering. Everybody on their feet, storms of cheers rising, falling and rising again, deafening everybody with the tumultuous uproar. In the midst of it, himself could be seen rapping for order. The gavel fell without sounding like a drum in an empty receiver; but by the time the breath of the crowd was exhausted they began to perceive that he was desirous to be heard. Amid cries of "Down! down!" "Order!" "Down! down!" the Secretary's tremendous voice forced its way through the confusion, announcing the vote of Ohio. Then Seymour spoke. His manner was earnest and vehement. He eulogized Pendleton, whom yesterday he was stabbing, praised the magnanimity of Ohio, whom yesterday he was under running; and then looked up to heaven with uplifted hand, declared that if he should accept their nomination he was a dishonest man. As he sat down, the crowd cheered again. They were willing to show him their good will, accept his declination and go on with the struggle, but the next moment was on the bench. For a moment he could not gain attention, but the Secretary thundered out his name from the platform and comparative order was at once restored. Nothing could have been more effective than the intense and fervid manner in which he overrode Seymour's objections and declared that the public safety demanded a sacrifice of his personal wishes. If it were really in earnest for Chase, as laid down long, Gov. Stanton and others have believed, it was the most perfect piece of acting ever exhibited on any stage. When he sat down Seymour was already nominated. Kernan of New York followed in an effective speech. The movement seemed to hang fire for a moment, as the call proceeded, and the few small States that were left cast their votes in the same direction as before, but the moment the roll was finished North Carolina asked to change her vote to Seymour, amid tremendous cheering. The change was made. A moment later Mississippi changed, and then as the tall form of Judge Woodward of Pennsylvania, was seen mounting a bench the Hall last saw that the coup d'etat had been successful. The twenty six votes of Pennsylvania were changed from Hancock to Seymour, and a tempest of cheering swept up among the flags and fluttered them as rebel cheers may sometimes have done in the midst of charges during the war. After Pennsylvania came the flood. The whole Convention was on its feet, and every Chairman was struggling to get the ear of the presiding officer. Gov. Seymour had already hastily disappeared from the platform to consider of his being a dishonored man, and Gov. Price of Missouri, one of the Vice Presidents, was presiding. All the hundred voices seemed shouting "Mr. President," at once. Every Chairman of a delegation was gesticulating frantically at the platform. Each change was greeted with rounds of applause, shouts and calls for nomination by acclamation, with cheers for Seymour.

THE EXCITEMENT

was now intensified by the thunder of cannon from the adjacent streets, and by the shouts of the multitude outside. At last there came such a state of wild disorder as seemed a summer calm beside the previous uproar, and the Southern Chairmen began to get in their little speeches as they announced their changes. At last came again the ear splitting voice of the Secretary announcing that three hundred and seventeen votes had been cast on this ballot, and that Horatio Seymour of New York, had received three hundred and seventeen votes. This was the cue for the crowd, and the pandemonium of uproar began again. Poor old Governor Price fairly pounded and beat with his gavel trying to keep the convention down. Efforts were made to proceed with the nomination for Vice President, but the convention was in absolute chaos, and at last the presiding officer taking the reins into his own hands declared a recess of an hour carried.

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR

last night pledged himself personally to the Chase men under no circumstances to accept the nomination. His words were: "I pledge you my sacred honor that I will not;" and there are plenty of witnesses to it. To day he declared to the convention that he would be a dishonored man if he did. He is known to have been pronounced by his physicians absolutely certain to become insane within a year if he should accept, and he expressly declared last night that he was unwilling to be a candidate among other reasons because he knew he could not be elected while he was hearty and sound for Chase because he knew Chase could be elected. There are a few of the difficulties just now passing through the mind of Governor Seymour. As in the midst of the cheers of the excited crowd he drove away from Tammany in his carriage, he looks troubled, but he will be able to silence his scruples.

A DOUBLE INTRIGUE

It may be added, as the belief of the shrewdest on lookers, that the New York delegation have steadily carried on a double intrigue. They have worked for Chase on one hand, and for Seymour on the other, and have stood ready to play whichever seemed likely to prove the winning card at the opportune moment.

AFTERNOON SESSION

On re-assembling after recess, the call of the States for nominations was commenced. The first State to make a nomination was California, which nominated Governor Haight. Next Illinois presented McClernand without however, seriously desiring to nominate him. McClernand made a short speech urging delegates not to vote for him, which advice was universally acquiesced in. Kansas presented the name of General Thos. Ewing, Jr., saying that either Ewing or Hancock would be satisfactory to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, in support of which a letter was read from the Executive Committee of that convention presenting the names of Ewing and Hancock. The reading of the letter was received with faint applause. General Preston, of Kentucky, late of the Confederate army, then rose and nominated General Frank Blair, which elicited tremendous applause, and when General Wade Hampton, of South Carolina and General Forrest, of Tennessee, seconded the nomination, the uproar was hardly less vociferous than when Seymour was declared nominated. The effect of Blair's recent proposal to resist the Reconstruction acts by arms was curiously manifested in the call of States. Each southern State in its turn seconded the nomination of Blair, while none of the Northern States gave in their adhesion until Pennsylvania was called. When the vote of the latter State was announced, there was a general break along the Northern line. Illinois was one of the last States to come into the Blair column. Kansas withdrew Ewing's name, and Blair's nomination was made unanimous.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT

HOW THE TICKET IS RECEIVED

The nominations are received with scarcely any enthusiasm outside the convention. Among the Democracy of New York city the disappointment at the failure of the Chase movement is almost universal. It may not be easy for the unterrified of the Western States to comprehend this fact, but when their delegates return home they will find that it is no exaggeration.

HOW THE NOMINATIONS ARE MADE

The nominations have fallen flat down town. They refused at first to believe that Seymour had been nominated, and when at last they could disbelieve it no longer, they acknowledged it was a certain omen of failure. Great numbers of young men are especially disgusted. They say they are tired of being in a losing party, and that the ticket is handicapped for certain defeat. It is no partisan exaggeration of the palpable facts to say that four fifths of the Democrats in New York regard the proceedings in Tammany to day as only another form of ratifying the nomination of Grant and Colfax.

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR

has not yet accepted the nomination, but very few entertain any doubt he will. Nevertheless it will require all his ingenuity to shape his distance so as to avoid personal disgrace. He said last night to Harvey, of the Massachusetts delegation, and subsequently to Woodbury, and the same delegation and subsequently to John J. Cisco and Colonel Van Buren, of New York that he pledged his personal honor that he would not accept a nomination, even if it were tendered him by a unanimous vote of the convention. This morning he repeated it to the same delegation, and added that, aside from questions concerning his health, he must decline in any event, for two other reasons. First, that his personal honor was pledged to it, and second that he knew that they knew that he could not possibly be elected; and finally with hand lifted to heaven, he declared before the convention that he should count himself a dishonored man if he were now to accept a nomination and added that in a case of this kind he must be the judge of his own honor, and must maintain his opinion against the world. The letter of acceptance in which he explains away these notorious declarations will be a curiosity in political literature.

JOHN MORRISSEY

is the most disgusted Democrat in New York. He was an original Pendleton man. In the lobby at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, to-night, in a large crowd, he offered to bet a thousand dollars against five hundred that Seymour would be defeated and announced that he held himself in readiness to make forty bets of the same amount and terms. "G— d— him," exclaimed Morrissey, with great vehemence, "he is a leech. I know it, and he knows that I know it. He is a d—— perjured liar." but cares for none of these things. His appearance at Tammany Hall was that of a man in intense agony of mind and many thought he already looked like a crazy man. The best actor at Wallack's could not have done it better. He appeared to be almost fainting, but he had strength enough left to get gracefully into a carriage and return his acknowledgments to the cheering crowds. To night at 10½ o'clock the latest bulletin represents him able to leave his hotel and visit

THE MANHATTAN CLUB

There, in an inner room, pale and interesting, he lies stretched upon a lounge, with eyes closed and listening to the congratulations of his friends. On one side stands Vallandigham explaining how he did it. On the other stands Colonel Van Buren of New York, ready to take up the wondrous tale. Seymour listens and languidly smiles and meditates the while upon such plasters as the Convention's action affords for his personal honor and word of honor as a gentleman.

THE DISGUST OF NEW YORK

at the nomination is intensified by the selection of Frank Blair. It was not enough they say that we must be asked to select a President that is crazy or going crazy, but then we must have a wild fellow just ready as Vice President to take his place when he is sent off to a lunatic asylum.

MAYOR HOFFMAN

and other leading Democrats who have gone out of town during the night are evincing great anxiety on the subject of Seymour's acceptance and are sending in messages to find out what he has done. They have not yet found out how easily a man reconciles himself to being confessedly dishonest when he has a Presidential nomination to console him. People are still studying

HOW IT WAS DONE

A few facts have come to light this evening which may help to explain it. It is not true that the plan of nominating Seymour by Ohio was agreed on in caucus last night, but Wash McLean has all along had in his possession a letter from Pendleton dated June 20, in which he expressed his preference for Seymour's nomination in case his own failed. Night before last this was sent to Seymour and he thus became aware of the fact that such a movement might be attempted. He returned the letter with thanks, and his stereotyped declaration. Last night the Chase matter was brought up in the Ohio caucus and a resolution was passed not to go for him. At that time Montgomery Blair and three such men were flitting about the corridors near the parlors of the delegation. Vallandigham, Wash. McLean, and several others were not present at this caucus, but this morning another was held, at which the last matter was again brought up. Several opposed the policy agreed upon the night before, and a Chase strength of about ten was developed in the delegation. Wash McLean declared he would be willing to support him cordially if nominated, and declared him the strongest candidate, and said he would, if nominated, carry every State in the country but two. But Judge Thurman had now invented the idea that he himself might be a candidate, and so he said that if they nominated Chase the riot act would have to be read when they got back to Ohio. Leblond moved that Ohio vote for Thurman, but failed to carry it, and they went into the Convention with the Seymour plan talked of but not fully arranged. Meantime the Chase plan had been to run Hendricks up by Southern votes, to kill off Hancock and then spring Chase. The very Southern votes which did run Hendricks up to-day were represented last night in the Chase caucus, but they played a little too fine. Hendricks seemed so strong that he seriously alarmed Ohio, who was determined to defeat him at all hazards. Just then they found out that Pennsylvania had agreed on the next ballot to cast its twenty-six votes for Hendricks. At the same time Massachusetts had given four for Chase, and this had produced great excitement. So Ohio determined to spring Seymour at once. The rest is known. Chase was to have been formally nominated on the next ballot by Michigan.

Government Aid for Mining Enterprise.

We print from the New York Tribune an article on the Sutro Tunnel scheme, which is before Congress for a five million subsidy. The Chicago Tribune also has some remarks on the same subject which seem to us so just that we give them a place here:

The Legislature of Nevada, adopting Mr. Sutro's estimate, expresses the opinion that, this tunnel once constructed, one thousand millions of bullion will be secured. To whom? To the thirty five companies owning claims, many of whose names are given by Mr. Sutro. Then why should they not build the tunnel themselves, if the profits are to be so enormous? Why should they not invest five millions with the prospect of realizing a thousand millions? Because, we quote Mr. Sutro's own italicised words, "all mining is looked upon as hazardous in itself, and it becomes absolutely impossible to induce private capital to undertake it," because again, "no confidence exists for the construction of tunnels, by the aid of which alone a rational system of mining can take place, because it has never been demonstrated in this country that mineral veins extend to a great depth." Therefore, "the government is asked" —we again quote from Mr. Sutro's argument— "not to establish a precedent of assisting mining enterprises generally, but to assist one grand national work."

It must seem to every one who is a stranger to Washington, to the men at Washington, and to the influences that work upon the men at Washington, simply incredible that every member of the Committee on Mines and Mining should have reported in favor of Mr. Sutro's scheme. The dilemma is a simple one. If the tunnel is able to pay, why does private capital hesitate to construct it? If it is not sure to pay, why should the United States invest the people's money in the enterprise of which they will have none of the profits in case of success, and all the loss in case of failure?

Said the New York Journal of Commerce of June 27th, commenting upon Seymour's review of "the financial condition of the nation" on the previous evening, in Cooper Institute: "It is gratifying to find an acknowledged leader of the Democratic party so thoroughly committed to sound financial theories. It is clear from this, that the so called Pendletonian theory will meet with little favor at the Fourth of July Convention, if Gov. Seymour's speech is the true keynote for that assemblage." The Journal never anticipated the entirely original method there vested by the Convention of reconciling financial differences.

A Catholic lady in Washington by ... got hold of a copy of the La Crosse Democrat, and after reading it was so filled with a sense of contamination that she made it a subject of confession to the priest.

Before the Convention, Seymour's friends said that he could not be a candidate for the Presidency, because of a family tendency to insanity. If he is likely to become any crazier than Andy Johnson, it will be better not to elect him.

An Avowed Revolutionist

The Chicago Tribune observes that the nomination of Frank P Blair to fill the second place on the Democratic ticket is all that the worst enemy of the party could desire. It adds to the platform on which Horatio Seymour must stand the revolutionary letter of Blair, published the day but one before the convention met, a document of the most unequivocal character, the reperusal of which we recommend to our Democratic friends. Here is Blair's platform:

There is but one way to restore the government and the constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare the Reconstruction acts null and void, compel the army to undo its usurpations at the South, disperse the carpet bag State governments, allow the white people to reorganize their governments, and elect Senators and Representatives. The House of Representatives will contain a majority of Democrats from the North, and they will admit the Representatives elected by the white people of the South, and with the co-operation of the President it will not be difficult to compel the Senate to submit once more to the obligations of the constitutions. It will not be able to withstand the public judgment if distinctly invoked and clearly expressed on this fundamental issue, and it is the sure way to avoid all future strife. To put this issue plainly to the country I repeat, that the real and only question which we should allow to control us is, "Shall we submit to the usurpations by which the government has been overthrown, or shall we exert ourselves for its full and complete restoration?" It is idle to talk of greenbacks, gold, the public faith, and the public credit. What can a Democratic President do in regard to any of these with Congress in both branches controlled by the carpet baggers and their allies? He will be powerless to stop the supplies by which idle negroes are organized into political clubs; by which an army is maintained to protect these vagabonds in their outrages upon the ballot. These, and things like these eat up the revenues and resources of the government, destroy its credit, and make the difference between gold and greenbacks. We must restore the constitution before we can restore the finances, and to do this we must have a President who will execute the will of the people, by trampling into dust the usurpations of Congress, known as the Reconstruction Acts.

"I wish to stand before the convention on this issue, but it is one which embraces everything else that is of value in its large and comprehensive result. It is the one thing that includes all that is worth a contest, and without it there is nothing that gives dignity, honor or value to the struggle."

It is especially noticeable that Blair lays down a policy for the President, and a very [illegible] policy. He is to annul the laws of the land by proclamation, to use the army to suppress the new State governments at the South, to put reconstruction in the hands of white rebels, and to "compel the Senate" to yield to his policy. With Blair's letter before the people and Blair on the ticket, the Republican press will be saved the necessity of telling the country what their platform is intended to mean. We repeat that the worst enemy of Democracy could not have tied to the party a heavier weight than Frank P P. Blair.

Bogus Generals.

Major General John Love, of Indiana, has organized the ex soldiers of the Union army into societies, known as the "Union White Boys in Blue." This organization now numbers over one hundred thousand enrolled members in Indiana and the adjacent States, and is receiving large accessions daily. It is a significant fact that of the soldiers who have engaged in permanent business vocations, by far the larger portion join this organization, while those who are leading idle and listless lives uniformly join the "Grand Army of the Republic," under those reckless and obstinate leaders Logan and Sickles, in the hope of "something to turn up" to their advantage —Herald.

Now who is this "Major General" John Love, who is paraded with such ostentation? Where did he hold a command, and what service did he render the country during the rebellion? None of the histories of the war period which we have ever seen mention his name. The official Army Register, (and we have examined the Register for the greater part of the war) contains no [illegible] of the man's name. Does anybody remember any gallant [illegible] performed by "Major General John Love" during the rebellion? Who is he that he should be extolled and such soldiers as Logan and Sickles, whose names are household words, "whistled down the wind?" Possibly he is "Major General" of the Knights of the Golden Circle. It is well known that there are not above two or three Union Generals who showed any capacity or performed any real service in the war, who are now acting with the "Democratic" party. The rest, whose names are paraded with so great a flourish are either myths or contemptible popinjays who saw no service, and

Who never set a squadron in the field
Or the division of a battle knew,
More than a spinster.

To which of these classes "Major General John Love" belongs, the Herald may ascertain and inform its readers.

A VERY SMALL CAPITAL.—Beriah inquires "Why is it that all the leading Republican papers on this coast are edited by nameless and irresponsible hirelings? Who knows or cares to know the writers of editorials in "the Union the Alta, or the Bulletin?" The inference is that every man, woman and child in the country must be extremely anxious to know 'Beriah Brown, Editor,' is the writer of the leaders in the 'organ.' A truly wonderful paper is the "organ," nobody cares a fig about any of the insignificant California papers above named. But it seems unfortunate that the Directors of the "organ" are not disposed to take Beriah at his own valuation. At their last meeting, a few days since, the question of his expulsion was discussed, and three were for dismissing him in a summary manner, and three were for permitting him to remain and giving him a trial awhile longer. A full Board was not present, or he would have been notified at once that his services were no longer needed. We state these facts on the authority of some of his Democratic "friends" of this city, who confidently declare that at the next meeting of the Directors the self-admiring "editor in chief" will be expelled. He is now remaining, so they say, on the most humiliating conditions. Though "impeached by a tie vote" he hadn't the spirit to resign. Poor Beriah. Poor hireling! On what a slender capital is he attempting to do the "responsible" as editor of the organ."

The Albany Democrat complains that Rousseau was summoned from Oregon as a witness in the impeachment trial at a cost of $9,000, and charges the outlay to the "malice of Stevens & Co." Now as Rousseau was summoned by A. Johnson for no purpose at all since he was not even sworn as a witness, it would seem that this little item of $9,000 might just as well be taxed against the defendant.

When Seymour received the nomination the band in waiting outside Tammany Hall struck up "The Battle Cry of Freedom!" With what unction must the rebel Generals inside have joined in chorus "Down with the traitors" etc. The dispatches do not state whether the Convention also sung of the travels of John Brown's soul.

A New Hampshire paper has the following under the head of "Deaths." In Enfield June 2 Joshua Stevens, aged 74. Mr. Stevens was a lifelong Democrat, and always voted that ticket. He died in the hope of a better life." It ought to be a consolation to his friends that he died repentant."

The campaign documents most industriously circulated by the Republicans at the West are speeches of Vallandigham, Pendleton, Hendricks, Thurman, and other radical Democrats.

Platform of the Reactionists, Rebels and Revolutionists

By telegraph we have the full text of the Democratic platform. It reads as follows:

The Democratic party in National Convention assembled, reposing its trust in the intelligence, patriotism and discriminating justice of the people, standing upon the constitution as the foundation and limitation of the powers of the government and the guarantee of the liberties of the citizen, and recognizing the questions of slavery and secession as having been settled for all time to come by the War or the voluntary action of the Southern States in Constitutional Conventions assembled, and never to be renewed or reagitated, do with the return of peace, demand:

First. The immediate restoration of all States to their rights in the Union under the Constitution, and of civil government to the American people.

Second. Amnesty for all past political offences and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citizens.

Third. The payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable; all money drawn from the people by taxation except so much as is requisite for the necessities of the government economically administered, being honestly applied to such payment, and when the obligations of the government do not expressly state upon their face or the law under which they were issued does not provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought in right and in justice be paid in the lawful money of the United States.

Fourth. Equal taxation of every species of property according to value, including government bonds and other public securities.

Fifth. One currency for the government and the people, the laborer and the officeholder, the pensioner and the soldier, the producer and the bondholder.

Sixth. Economy in the administration of the government, the reduction of the standing army and navy, the abolition of the Freedmen's Bureau and all political instrumentalities designed to secure negro supremacy; simplification of the system and discontinuance of inquisitorial modes of assessing and collecting internal revenue, that the burden of taxation be equalized and lessened, the credit of the country made good; all enactments for the enrolling of the State militia into national forces in time of peace; and a tariff for revenue upon foreign imports and such equal taxation under the internal revenue laws as will afford incidental protection to domestic manufactures as will without impairing the revenue impose the least burden upon and best promote and encourage the great industrial interests of the country.

Seventh. Reform of abuses in the administration, the expulsion of corrupt men from office, the abrogation of useless offices, the restoration of rightful authority to the independence of the Executive and Judicial Departments of the government, the subordination of military to the civil power, to the end that the usurpation of Congress and the despotism of the sword may cease.

Eighth. Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native born citizens at home and abroad; the assertion of American nationality which will command the respect of foreign powers, furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights, and the maintenance of the rights of naturalized citizens against the absolute doctrine of immutable allegiance and the claims of foreign powers to punish them for alleged crimes committed beyond their jurisdiction.

In demanding these measures and reforms we arraign the Radical party for its disregard of right and the unparalleled oppression and tyranny which have marked its career. After the most solemn and unanimous pledge of both Houses of Congress to prosecute the war exclusively for the maintenance of the government and the preservation of the Union under the constitution it has repeatedly violated the most sacred pledge under which was rallied that noble volunteer army which carried our flag to victory. Instead of restoring the Union it has, so far as it is in its power, dissolved it and subjected ten States in time of profound peace to military despotism and negro suffrage. It has nullified there the right of trial by jury; it has abolished the habeas corpus, that most sacred writ of liberty; it has overthrown the freedom of speech and the press; it has substituted arbitrary seizures and arrests, and military trials and secret Star Chamber inquisitions for constitutional tribunals. It has disregarded in time of peace the right of the people to be free from search and seizures. It has entered the post and telegraph offices and even the private rooms of individuals and seized their private papers and letters without any specification or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law. It has converted the American Capitol into a bastile. It has established a system of spies and official espionage to which no constitutional monarchy of Europe would now dare to resort. It has abolished the right of appeal on important constitutional questions to the supreme judicial tribunals and threatened to curtail or destroy its original jurisdiction, which is irrevocably vested by the Constitution, while the learned Chief Justice has been subjected to great and atrocious calumnies merely because he would not prostitute his high office to the support of the false and partisan charges preferred against the President. Its corruption and extravagance have exceeded anything known in history, and by its frauds and monopolies it has nearly doubled the burden of the debt created during the war. It has stripped the President of his constitutional power of appointment, even of his own Cabinet. Under its repeated assaults the pillars of the government are rocking on their base, and should it succeed in November next, and inaugurate its President we will meet as a subjected and conquered people amid the ruins of Liberty and the scattered fragments of the Constitution. And we do declare and resolve, that ever since the people of the United States threw off all subjection to the British crown the privilege and trust of suffrage have belonged to the several States and have been granted, regulated and controlled exclusively by the political power of each State respectively, and any attempt by Congress on any pretext whatever to deprive any State of this right, or interfere with this exercise, is a flagrant usurpation of power which can find no warrant in the Constitution, and if sanctioned by the people will subvert our form of government, and can only end in a single centralized consolidated government in which the separate existence of the States will be absorbed and an unqualified despotism be established in place of a Federal Union of co-equal States; and that we regard the reconstruction acts of Congress such usurpations as unconstitutional, revolutionary and void.

That our soldiers and sailors, who carried the flag of our country to victory against a most gallant and determined foe, must ever be gratefully remembered and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

That the public lands should be distributed as widely among the people and should be disposed of either under the pre-emption or homestead lands and sold in reasonable quantities, and to none but actual occupants at the minimum price established by the government. When grants of the public lands may be allowed necessary for the encouragement of important public improvements, the proceeds of the sale of such lands and not the lands themselves, should be so applied.

That the President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, in exercising the power of his office in restricting the aggressions of Congress on the constitutional rights of the States and the people, is entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and on behalf of the Democratic party we tender him our thanks for his patriotic efforts in that regard.

Upon this platform the Democratic party appeal to every patriot, including all the Conservative element and all who desire to support the constitution and restore the Union, forgetting all past differences of opinion, to unite with us in the present great struggle for the liberties of the people, and that all such to whatever party they may have heretofore belonged, we extend the right hand of fellowship, and hail all such as friends and brothers.

Last evening, for the first time, says the Virginia City Era of July 16th, a passenger train passed over the Central Pacific Railroad to Wadsworth. Hereafter passenger trains will run regularly through to that point.

Collegians on a Bender

WORCESTER (Mass) July 24—The city is crowded with visitors to witness the regatta and base ball matches between the university clubs of Yale and Harvard. Several were arrested and fined and one was held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars.

Heavy Rain in Baltimore

BALTIMORE July 24 —A tremendous rain has been falling since this morning. A portion of the city is entirely flooded. The Maryland Institute is surrounded by a sheet of rushing water. The water is carrying hogsheads, bales of hay etc with it. The first floor of the stores on Frederick and Harrison streets are under water and merchants are compelled to remove their goods to the upper stories. The river has been rising at the rate of two inches per minute since one o'clock. Several streets have been converted into running torrents. A city passenger car was swept from the track on Gay street down to Harrison with a number of passengers. The wildest rumors have prevailed in regard to the number drowned. Some estimate the number at seven, while others say all but one were saved. It is impossible now to get the facts. A number of dray horses and some drivers are reported drowned. There is no communication between the eastern and western portions of the city. The flood is sweeping everything before it. There is no communication south by telegraph, all the lines being down. No such flood was ever known here.

"WHEREAS, The said stipulations cannot be carried into effect except by legislation, to which the consent of both houses is necessary."

Paine moved to table the report. Lost—36 to 50. After an angry and excited discussion the report was agreed to—91 to 50.

A motion to reconsider the vote on taking a recess was laid on the table—76 to 71. This marks the action of the House yesterday [illegible].

Boutwell introduced a bill to provide more speedily for the organization of the States of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas. The bill gives the Constitutional Conventions in these States additional powers, and requires provisional governments to enforce the ordinances of these conventions until disapproved by Congress. It provides for the reassembling of conventions in Mississippi and Virginia. The bill finally passed.

A Committee of Conference on the funding bill was appointed.

The Speaker expressed a hope that members would attend through the session to morrow in order that there might be a quorum to act upon the report of the Conference Committee on the funding bill. Adjourned.

The Baltimore Flood

BALTIMORE, July 25 —The flood subsided shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday as rapidly as it came. The damages cannot be closely approximated. They are estimated at not less than three millions. A number of buildings were undermined and damaged and some were partially swept away. The gas works supplying a large portion of the city were submerged. The loss of life has not been ascertained. It is believed that only a few have been drowned. The trains are running to Washington, but the Northern Central Railroad is badly damaged. Trains have not been run for several days. A telegram from Ellicott's Mills reports that the Granite Mills were swept away and sixty persons drowned. Dr Owen's entire family, except himself were drowned.

They do not intend to invade Canada. They hope to be stopped by General Grant. This will save their credit for patriotism. They can still get their fingers into the pockets of fools. This will help the Democratic party, who have the leaders in their pay, and it will prevent the Irish from voting with the Republicans.

DALLES ITEMS.—We clip the following from the Mountaineer [illegible]

The steamer Idaho we are informed [illegible] this season [illegible] the stage [illegible] cars as they pass [illegible] Main street [illegible] with freight [illegible] the business this year has been usually good in the freighting line. A large number of teams [illegible] for the [illegible] week. Business [illegible] is far better than at this time last year. P[illegible] & Co shipped thirty thousand pounds of merchandise to their branch house in Montana. On Monday last [illegible] of Judge [illegible] of this city about twelve years of age met with quite a serious accident. In running along a sidewalk his foot was caught by a [illegible] throwing him upon the ground with such force as to break the elbow joint of the left arm. Mr C[illegible] the contractor for building the [illegible] at Mill creek for the Manufacturing Company's [illegible] has completed and the work has been accepted by the Inspecting Committee. A few days ago we took a stroll up Mill creek and examined the flume, which we found built in a very substantial manner. It is expected to have the [illegible] running by the 10th proximo. Rev J H Wilbur Indian Agent at Fort Simcoe arrived in town on Wednesday. He has entirely recovered from his last sickness caused by accidentally being run over by a wagon when hauling logs. Mr Wilbur has had a number of whites arrested for selling whisky to the Indians, and from what we are able to learn the evidence is very strong against them.

CLARKE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—Last Saturday pursuant to the adjournment of a former meeting, was the day appointed for the organization of an Agricultural Society for Clarke County. We are not advised as to the definite proceedings but there is no reason to doubt that the society was fully organized and preliminary arrangements made for holding a county fair this fall. At the former meeting alluded to it was resolved: That it is organization be known as the Clarke County Agricultural and Mechanical Society. That the officers of said society shall be a President Vice President Secretary and Treasurer. That any person may become a member of this Society upon paying into the Treasury thereof one dollar; but no member shall be entitled to vote at the election for officers thereof unless such person is a resident of Clarke county and over twenty-one years of age. That the object of this Society is the diffusion of useful agricultural and mechanical knowledge.

OF THE RIGHT STUFF.—On and after the occasion of the fire which destroyed Mr Walker's factory we often heard it remarked that the loser was a plucky man and that he bore his loss with admirable philosophy. The ashes in the ruins had scarcely become cold before Mr Walker was making plans for rebuilding. We learn that [illegible] machinery have already been forwarded to the East, and that Mr W is about to let the contract for the erection of a fire proof brick, to be sixty by eighty-three feet with two stories on the old base [illegible] one fourteen feet and the other twelve feet high. Mr Walker contemplates going east shortly to personally superintend the construction of some machinery not to be had out here, and very rarely found in the eastern shops. He is of exactly the right stuff for building up and developing a new country like this, and the whole community will join in wishing him the greatest possible measure of good fortune.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.—Just at present there is considerable activity in the matter of street improvements and repairs. In addition to the grading of several streets, the laying down [illegible] and cross walks some of the formerly improved streets are getting a touching up. Washington street is receiving a new dressing of broken stone. The following is a list of the parts of streets to be improved immediately—most of them by grading and construction of sidewalks and crossings: Jefferson, Front to Twelfth; Clay, Columbia, Market, Mill, Montgomery and Harrison, from Front street to Fourth street; Sixth street, from Pine to Clay street; Seventh street, from Washington to Clay street; Stark street, from Second to Sixth street; Pine street, from First to Sixth street; Ash street from Front to Fourth street; D street, from Front to Eleventh street; Fifth street from [illegible] to Clay street.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON JUDGE.—The following proceedings were had in the Circuit Court on Saturday:

J R Stephens vs. Jos Knott. Judgment for defendant for costs. Logan and Shattuck for plaintiff; Friedenrich for defendant.

H. A. Hogue vs H Ludwig. Judgment for plaintiff on report of referee. Hill & Mulkey for plaintiff; Stout Reed & Thayer for defendant.

State of Oregon, ex relation I R Moores vs J Gast et al. Motion to strike out part of complaint overruled. [illegible] allowed until Wednesday to plead. Mitchell D[illegible] & Smith for plaintiff; Gibbs & Parrish for defendant.

F. Harbaugh vs. A Mallen. Motion for new trial dismissed. Judgment on verdict $200 for plaintiff. [illegible] Dolph & Smith for plaintiff; Shattuck & Caples for defendant.

G. W. J[illegible] Lake vs Henry Bird. Judgment for plaintiff by default, $391 90. J F Caples for plaintiff.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—The following are the proceedings of Saturday:

R R Bybee, Assignee etc vs R J Ladd. Hearing upon motion of plaintiff for judgment upon the finding of the court set for Saturday next.

In re. John B Wallace, a Bankrupt—Bank of British Columbia et al vs C M Lockwood et al, creditors of said bankrupt. Demurrer to the petition for injunction argued and submitted.

U S. vs Steamboat Rainier. Claims of M Chappel Her & Jarvis Hall, upon motion, were ordered filed.

In re. Nelson Northrup & Wright vs. Nelson, Bankrupt. Order granting final discharge to the petitioners.

Adjourned until Saturday August 1st.

SALE OF A STEAMBOAT.—The steamer Rainier owned by the Cowlitz Navigation Company, was sold on Saturday at Marshals' sale, under a judgment for penalties for violation of the U S passenger and navigation laws. The sale was made by Mr A B, Richardson auctioneer and the steamer was sold to J C Kingsley for the sum of [illegible], legal tenders. The Rainier was built for the navigation of the Cowlitz river, started and continued for some time to run without the necessary number of [illegible] [illegible] and without the licenses from inspectors required by law. It is said the purchaser will refit her and put her in service.

DEATH OF [illegible] TOWNSEND.—During Friday night, [illegible] Townsend, late a private watchman, died from the [illegible] of a pistol shot accidentally received in his leg some [illegible] ago. He had been in a sad condition with it all [illegible] from the first, and had suffered long and terribly. [illegible] came finally to the sufferer rather as a relief than as a terror, though to the family left destitute, it is a be[illegible] which words can poorly describe. The wife and [illegible] are left with absolutely nothing, but the [illegible] of the world.

SHIPPING.—We learn from Mr Richard Hoyt Purser of the steamer Coach that the bark Narramissic is loading at Oak Point with lumber for San Diego California. The brig [illegible] is loading at the same place for San Francisco. Both these vessels arrived in ballast and neither of them we think was announced by telegraph as sailing from San Francisco hence we conclude they are from other ports. The bark Almatia is also loading with lumber for San Francisco and will be ready to sail next Friday. The Coach will tow her down to Astoria.

LOOK OUT FOR THE THIEVES.—On the 8th inst the sum of $9,000 in gold [illegible] coin was stolen from Mr Daniel Levins at Galesville Douglas county. Two Chilians are supposed to have committed the crime—[illegible] [illegible] fixed as 5 feet 6 inches high weighing about 125 lbs has high cheek bones and speaks good English; the other is an ugly looking fellow with one ear gone. They are supposed to have come this way and posters are up in this city offering a reward of $600 for the recovery of the [illegible]

NEW BOOKS.—The following new books have been lately added to the Portland Library: Hard Cash, by Charles Reade; Young Nightwood two vols, by G Foxton; Mozart, by E R Hill; Manners, by Mrs Hale; the Chimney Corner by Christopher Crowfield; Silver Lake [illegible] R M Ballantyne; Claudia by Amanda M Douglas; Fighting the Flames by R M Ballantyne; A Year at the Shore, by Phillip Henry Gosse; The Pillar of Fire by Rev. J H Ingraham.

FLEEING TO THE MOUNTAINS.—The heat and the sickness of last week are having their usual effect—to start people to the mountains and to the seaside. Several families and numbers of unincumbered people have already left the city and others are preparing to go.

COMPLIMENTARY TICKETS.—We acknowledge the receipt from the Washington Guard, of complimentary tickets for the Moonlight Excursion on the evening of August 5th.

OREGON PRODUCTS.—The following was received on Saturday per the Alert: 240 qr sks flour, 100 sks feed, 52 bales wool, 7 bales blankets.

The Climax of Copperhead Impudence

In the New York Convention McClernand of Illinois, made a speech in which he addressed Wade Hampton, Fort Pillow Forrest and other rebels present, saying "I stretch out to you the hand of fellowship and say let us co-operate to arrest disunion and usurpation." Has the devil himself ever shown more impudence and assurance than is habitual with Copperhead politicians? If we except the transaction on the mountain he certainly never has.

Means "Hard Money"

According to dispatches to the Chicago Tribune, the New York World, the journal which represents the brains of the Democratic party, takes the position that the financial planks of the New York platform mean hard money. The same view is taken by the San Francisco Examiner the most prominent and influential Democratic paper on the Pacific coast.

The "organ" sympathizing [illegible] an article from the Charleston Mercury which commences thus: "Our people are once more called upon to face the bitter fact that they are conquered." Good. The tone of the Mercury has improved decidedly since 1860-61 when it printed its North[illegible] news under the head of "foreign dispatches," and declared that if the troops were not removed from Charleston harbor "the people would obey the call for war and take the forts."

THE SOLDIERS' VOW.—At the ceremony of d[illegible] the soldiers' [illegible] at St. Louis Gen. Carl Schurz concluded his oration with the following splendid passage:

Then in the awful presence of the soldiers' thousand graves let us pronounce this vow: by every drop of blood that has been shed in the great struggle; by every groan and sigh of the wounded and dying; by every tear that has moistened the pale cheek of the widow and orphan; by the horrors of death that swept over our battle-fields and haunted the beds of agony in our hospitals, here we renew the sacred promise that these men shall not have died in vain, that no power shall move us from our purpose, that no obstacle, however formidable, shall make us falter or pause; that we will not rest until we can crown their graves with the [illegible] of the final victory of the right, until the great American Republic one and indivisible, is firmly grounded upon impartial justice and the equal rights of all. Yes, marching on with the van of the grand Army of liberty, hovering over our banners as they advance from struggles to struggles, quickening our resolution with their inspiring presence, striking confusion into the hearts of our enemies and overwhelming those who have proved faithless with the damning fulmination of their treachery; so we will march on together—on and on, united, fearless, irresistible until the grand consummation is reached, so that when we lay down our heads mankind may bless us as we now bless those who have preceded us.

The Morgantown (W. Va.) Post says: We do not know of a single honorably discharged Union soldier in Morgantown who is going or voting with the Copperhead party, while on the other hand there are dozens of honorably discharged Union soldiers acting and voting with the Republican Union party.

Lafayette C. Baker, the Government detective, died in Philadelphia the other day.

EVERYBODY seems to provide himself with a Fourth of July Hat since the hot weather has set in, which keeps Meussdorffer very busy making them.

WILLIAM KOEHLER,
DENTIST.
OFFICE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets opposite E J Northrup & Co's Hardware Store.
I am now making among numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr G W Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3 1866, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold. It not only makes the plate double as strong and cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and and see specimens.
N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr G W Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates can have it made out to them by applying to this office.
N. B.—To strangers I would say that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fever; Fortifies the System against [illegible] and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels.
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from [illegible] exercises the electric influence [illegible] stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
[illegible] it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and [illegible] from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

"The Independent Press"

Under this caption the San Francisco [illegible] in the Chronicle has the following amusing characterization of the newspaper press of that city

Every now and awhile we hear a good deal of the "Independent Press"

What is it?

Let us recapitulate

The country papers are away out of town [illegible] this metropolis this [illegible] round which the [illegible] the universe revolves and which the sun could [illegible] at night but for the [illegible] which nature raises on purpose to hide his blushes [illegible] won't discuss them

Is it the Bulletin the Jupiter Tonans of the metropolitan press?

No the Bulletin has got so low it dares not name a wrong-doing Supervisor It is great on "it is said" and "it is thought" and "it is the opinion on the street," but the Bulletin has fallen from its high state Its been subjugated Libel suits have done it It has a holy horror of Judge Dwinelle [illegible] is in Spain, Pickering is too rich to be aggressive and Simonton—well Simonton is in Washington at a country seat near Washington with statues and carriages and marble fountains and where it is to be hoped he will stay

Is it the Times?

"Not much," to speak in the vulgate which is sometimes a relief, being a change from our habitually fastidious English) The Times would like to be independent and makes a resolve and a start every now and again till it catches sight of the club of "the man behind the door" The Times is independent when general principle—very general principles are involved It will smite the Amalekites and the Jebusites and all the other "ites" you can find in Exodus, hip and thigh and with great slaughter, but when it comes down to living men and living things it is "mum" The Times, though it would like to be, ain't the "independent press"

Is it the Alta?

Pah! Are the auctioneers advertisements independent? The XXIII chapter of Deuteronomy rules out the Alta It can't enter

Or the Examiner?

Pshaw! A paper that was willing to "ror" for Jeff Davis, Wendell Phillips, or the Emperor [illegible] whoever the Convention might nominate, and that is now trying its best to "ror" for Seymour, Blair and Axtell, though it hates them all three; a paper that refused to hoist the name of Blair until it was well whipped; but which then did so It ain't the Examiner.

It is the Dispatch?

The Dispatch has the title. It prints "Independent Dispatch" at the head of old telegrams, [illegible] news, and [illegible] platitudes, but if it is independent at all, it is only independent in its thinking; and if so, it never says what it thinks

As for the [illegible] press, they ain't worth a continental—shinplaster

Ah! but we had forgotten

There is the little Call, it is so small it had slipped our memory

Is the Call independent?

Well, it is independent of logic; independent of common sense, independent of grammar and rhetoric It cares as for these as its editors care for weak lemonade or soda water. But then, that don't constitute it an "Independent Press," unless the "hog on ice," the pet type of the Call, is an independent animal.

ANALYSIS OF THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

—The Marysville Appeal gives the following analyses of that ingenious and extraordinary contrivance.

The planks of the Copperhead platform are as well mixed as the nominees. The resolutions can generally be interpreted to mean anything, everything or nothing. Seymour stands as a [illegible] live of the Peace Democracy, and Blair for the War Democracy, [illegible] "fearfully and wonderfully [illegible] the ear-marks of War men, [illegible] the Seymours, Belmonts, Pendletons, [illegible], and the Manton Marble [illegible] one het[illegible] mass of words jumbled together into a heap of unmeaning[illegible]. There is not an important or live principle affirmed in this great national structure, but what has a back-door. In fact, it is modeled somewhat after the architectural style of Br[illegible] Young's family residence at Salt Lake, there being a separate department for all the [illegible] of the Democracy. There are the peace and war apartments Seymour occupying the former, and Blair the latter. The [illegible] have the right wing, and the pay[illegible] the left wing. The Economists, who bleat about the extravagance of Andrew Johnson's Democratic administration are masters of the culinary department, and occupy the kitchen. Anti-Freedmen's Bureau [illegible] live in the cellar, where darkness renders the distinction in color difficult. The Misses Amnesty tend to the chambers, and keep the linen clean. It seems peculiarly adapted to the party, For those who can read it is in[illegible]hensible, and to the majority, who can't, it makes no difference whether it is [illegible] or not.

[illegible] GRANT —The home of [illegible] Grant is an agreeable one to the visitor, [illegible] shows the nature and taste of the [illegible]. Tall walnut book [illegible] surround [illegible] of the library. Everything relating to the business of war is there, and histories in [illegible]. On the mantel is a cigar stand, a [illegible] of a drummer, and another of a [illegible]. Engravings of Washington, Lincoln, Sherman and Sheridan, and several photographs of Rogers' statuettes, are the only pictures in the room. Easy chairs and lounges are placed carelessly around the room, and the library is, without doubt, the most cheerful and inviting apartment in the house A miniature saddle and trappings, in bronze and silver, is fastened to cross sabers of the same material. A bronze drum rests beside a stack of six-inch muskets; a cigar case from the home of Burns, a half dozen curiously formed and elaborately decorated pipes and cigar holders, powder-horns mounted in gold and silver, each having its separate history and a hundred rare little articles of value adorn the tables and mantels. On a side table, in tin boxes, are the five military commissions of Colonel, Brigadier General, Major General Lieutenant General and General, with the parchments of brevet ranks which Grant has received. Some very costly albums, prayer books and bibles are also upon the table An oil painting of Sheridan and one of McPherson are prominently hung in the parlors and a marble bust and engraving of President Lincoln are also conspicuous

We (British Medical Journal) are unable to confirm the statement that, as the result of a continued agitation in the French general press, the Emperor and other persons in authority have come to the conclusion that a number of persons are improperly confined in lunatic asylums. The Emperor has directed a searching official inquiry to be made, and it is expected that he will himself take personal part in visiting sundry asylums The agitation originated in the advocacy of the family treatment of the insane. The system now in fashion would have shut up Martin Luther Ignatius Loyola, Fox, Whitfield, Swedenborg and a host of others—that is supposing that they had possessed property, and that any of their friends had an interest in secluding them.

PORTLAND, OREGON, July 14 1868

P D MOORE, Esq , SIR—

The undersigned having witnessed the exhibition in this city yesterday of your "Extinguisher" or Portable Self Acting Fire Engine, would state that the first experiment of a fire kindled outside of the building erected in the rear of the Central Public School House, made by using shavings, staves, tar, &c, was effectually extinguished with one machine in a short time, that the second experiment of a fire in the inside of the building made by using shavings, kerosene, staves and dry stuff was also promptly extinguished by the use of one machine in less than three minutes The third experiment was left to the control of the Fire Department under the direction of the Chief Engineer, and the building was fired inside and outside, and when the fire was well under way the Chief Engineer gave the order to "extinguish" and the fire was effectually put out in about six minutes A brisk breeze was blowing at the time, and we pronounce the experiment successful and satisfactory We are satisfied that the "EXTINGUISHER" is very valuable for what it claims namely, the prompt extinguishment of fires in their earlier stages, and being portable self acting and always ready at a moment's notice, would, if generally introduced, save much valuable property from destruction, and we regard it as a valuable auxiliary to the Fire Department. They are indispensable in those localities where no steam or other fire engine is in use, and we recommend their use generally in dwellings, stores, hotels, and public buildings

Very respectfully,

ON BOARD THE "ALASKA," Portland July 13, 1868

P D MOORE, Esq —Sir I have just returned from witnessing the operations of your "Extinguisher," or Portable Self-Acting Fire Engine and confess I was both surprised and highly pleased with its success

I have no doubt whatever of its efficiency and adaptation to putting out fires in their earlier stages however combustible the materials may be that are burning Its action on a flame is really magical They should be in every house of any value, or which contains valuable property, as well as on board of vessels No one can estimate the additional security they give to both life and property You will please furnish me two of the No 1 size immediately, for the Alaska as I sail for Honolulu to-morrow morning. Very respectfully

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel" and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties Parties interested will take notice for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law

That all may know I mean what I say and am not playing "bluff" I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States

WASHINGTON D C , April 17, 1868

"MR A MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Lefel's patents In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does and in this he clearly infringes The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third, or any other number of tiers added It is a clear infringement Respectfully yours,
DODGE & MUNN

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker user buyer or seller Every infringement, whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted

A M Swain—Dear Sir,—The following tests have been made by us at the dates given Our overshot wheels were from rim [illegible], from shafts, and as good wheels as we have ever seen Buckets 1ft long rim [illegible] inches deep and 40ft in diameter

This would not furnish sufficient power to run two [illegible] of machinery on one wheel when buckets were filled with water hence the tests [illegible] run on each overshot wheel All our tests were made by measuring the depth of water a flume and the distance it traveled [illegible] per minute All the flour made is our XXX brand [illegible] bushels of wheat [illegible]

July 1st, 1867.—Water 12 inches deep in flume 4ft wide running 163ft per minute [illegible]

[illegible]

Nov [illegible] 1866.—Water 9 inches deep 4ft wide, running 150ft per minute driven [illegible] Stevens & Jonval [illegible] and all mill machinery using 468 cubic feet per minute

Aug [illegible] 1867, Water 8 inches deep, 4ft wide running [illegible]

Aug 20th.—Water [illegible] inches deep 4ft wide running [illegible] Swain wheel under [illegible] all mill machinery except wheat cleaning [illegible] cubic feet of water [illegible] minute

Nov [illegible] Water 9½ inches deep 4ft wide running [illegible] Swain wheel under [illegible] and all mill machinery except wheat cleaners making [illegible] and grinding [illegible] barley in a straight run [illegible] less than six [illegible] of water per minute

A M Swain Dear Sir We have now been using your [illegible] wheel with bucket [illegible] for [illegible] one year in our flour mill, under a 62ft head We have made very careful tests with overshot wheels and find your wheel fully equals the best overshot even with partial gate and excels it with full gate It will run our mill machinery and run up to its full mill with the gate one fifth open and use water with good economy We have tested it beside the Tyler, Stevenson and Leffel turbines drawing water from the same pipe, and find it superior to them in simplicity of gate fixtures, steadiness of power and greater economy of water After twenty tests reported [illegible] water [illegible] and the expenditure [illegible] different wheels we would not take any other wheel as a gift [illegible] get the Swain [illegible] at the highest rates We consider it [illegible] for perfect work on a water wheel that will last for years for a manufacturer the best possible investment

We have great trouble with the Leffel wheel gate in leaking and breaking and have broke the gate several times in the six months we have run it while your gate has never failed to close tight and has never bothered us for a moment Truly yours

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco [illegible] and pretenders, who with bogus [illegible] certificates dupe the unwary Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tinsmiths and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers etc Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten, are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles or [illegible] pretended patients letters, etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

⁂ CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE

⁂ CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

⁂ IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRECY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or inviting to the invariable success which has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon [illegible] subject as the decay of manly vigor the [illegible] the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] tive; but the desire to point out to the [illegible] guish and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How extended the terrible [illegible] of Seminal W[illegible] none but the practical specialist who [illegible] treatment can tell, but its presence can [illegible] by the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms Weakness of the back and [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power; nervousness, cold feet or [illegible] of [illegible] consumption; short breath, [illegible] sion to society confusion of the mind, loss [illegible] nightly [illegible]; colorless, slight [illegible] least exci[illegible] palpitation [illegible] irregular appetite, variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the symptoms [illegible] always, [illegible] The [illegible] is the golden moment in which you may [illegible] health and happ[illegible] You may feel [illegible] now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of [illegible] the alarming enemy, you have the seeds of [illegible] in your system, and their [illegible] will sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your [illegible] to the ground, leaving you a [illegible] disease that declares itself at once. [illegible] feelings not danger; for while the patient is [illegible] affection of the Heart, [illegible], Brain, or [illegible] the functions, he sinks into a [illegible] adds him to the list of the [illegible] of the terrible [illegible] Weakness.

See in the best form and [illegible] the poor victim of the [illegible] vice! Mark the [illegible] of the destructive complaint in the hollow the [illegible]

Drowsiness is one of the pre[illegible] At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows [illegible] into a great disinclination to pursue his regular [illegible]. The mind be[illegible] and restless [illegible] days of dep[illegible]

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little [illegible] recovery In a single instant it may [illegible] hopes and blast your honest aspirati[illegible]

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a haven of relief. This is an error of the first [illegible] for the system, unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a dep[illegible] from which there is but the [illegible] hope of [illegible]. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, [illegible] and deg[illegible]. This is [illegible] ble to both sexes, whether married or single, and in all times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the [illegible] terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application [illegible] the only hope of health and happiness The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs [illegible] which taken in time, always guaranteed, and full and proper vigor restored.

The afflicted are [illegible]

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the [illegible] the Institute, the number of cases of V[illegible] that have been treated show a record unequ[illegible] by any [illegible] in the world, and the success that has invariably marked the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] established medical principle that those [illegible] by entering the blood, ruin the constitution [illegible] life

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long [illegible], without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or [illegible] him to neglect his business, whether in-doors or [illegible] diet need not be changed Cures always guaranteed, no pay required

I[illegible]PORTANT TO F[illegible]

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be Where is there a physician competent to administer relief and whose respectable standing in [illegible] will recommend him to the confidence of the com[illegible]? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to [illegible] and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female [illegible] for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, [illegible] or designing Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble and in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex Private apartments are provided when desired, where can be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor and the most skillful and and faithful nurses.

TO CORRESPONDENTS —Persons either male or female, residing in the interior are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time nor incur the expense of a visit to the city To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home None need have any false delicacy about writing no matter what the nature of their complaint as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor and will be treated with the utmost confidence and either be returned or destroyed.
